FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Spartan Motors Announces New President of Road Rescue Unit

CHARLOTTE, Michigan, January 10, 2005 - Spartan Motors, Inc. (NASDAQ: SPAR) today announced it has named Randy Knors as President of Road Rescue, Inc., Spartan's Marion, S.C.-based subsidiary and a leading engineer and manufacturer of modular ambulances and specialty vehicles.

The Charlotte, Mich.-based manufacturer of custom motorhome chassis, fire truck chassis and emergency-rescue vehicles said Knors was previously Vice President of Operations at Spartan Chassis, the largest and most profitable subsidiary of Spartan Motors. Knors joined Spartan Chassis in 2002 as Executive Director of Operations and was promoted in June 2004 to Vice President of Operations.

At Spartan Chassis, he was instrumental in implementing such key initiatives as lean manufacturing processes, the "War on Waste" program and driving consecutive years of return on invested capital of greater than 20 percent through the SPAR (Spartan Profit and Return) program. Knors brings more than 25 years of engineering, manufacturing and management experience to Road Rescue, including 20 years of operations management experience in the automotive industry.

"Randy's two decades of experience in implementing manufacturing excellence and his diverse background in manufacturing operations, engineering and leadership should have an immediate impact on accelerating the productivity and efficiency improvements we have seen at Road Rescue over the last four months," said John Szykiel, CEO of Spartan Motors. "His prior experience and successes at Spartan Chassis will help him hit the ground running as we work to align all three Spartan Motors subsidiaries closer together for greater gains.

"We are also excited as this demonstrates the growing depth of leadership within Spartan Motors, as we have a transition plan already in process and expect no loss of efficiency in the operations of Spartan Chassis."

Prior to his experience at Spartan Chassis, Knors was Vice President of North American Operations for Rochester Hills, Mich.-based Eagle Ottawa, a leader in the manufacture and marketing of top-grain upholstery leather for the automotive industry. At Eagle Ottawa, Knors managed the daily operations of seven plants, including three plants in Mexico and more than 3,400 personnel. Prior to this position, Knors held numerous plant manager and production manager positions in a 15-year tenure with Tenneco Automotive, one of the nation's leading Tier 1 auto suppliers. An engineer by trade, Knors holds a bachelor's degree in science for industrial technology from the University of Wisconsin.
